FOREST FIRES OF INCENDIARY ORIGIN

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 16.—Forest service officials are known to have obtained direct evidence that several disastrous forest fires in the north-west have been set by men who later secured employment as fire fighters. It is believed this became a common practice in many districts. While acknowledging they have evidence the authorities here are trying to implicate several gangs before obtaining any arrests. Suspicion was aroused when men who fought one fire appeared about another, recently discovered in the same locality.

The usual wage has been 30 cents an hour. The forestry service alone has spent $20,000 this season, the driest known for 30 years.

Three hundred men are employed by the western forestry and conservation association.

Heavy rains fell for eight hours over the Colville reservation in north-western Washington. In this district as well as in several others the danger is past. East of Mount Jefferson, Oregon, however, water is still being hauled on wagons to fight the flames. In the Walla Walla reserve, 500 acres have been burned over.

Conservationists in Oregon have begun a movement looking toward a state-controlled organization to prevent such fires as those of this year.

"UNCLE JOE" SHOULD GIVE SERIES OF TALKS

PUEBLO, Colo., Aug. 16.—"Let the insurgent leaders in every state in the country ask 'Uncle Joe' to make a series of talks. That is the best way to increase the strength of the insurgents I know of," declared Governor W. R. Stubbs of Kansas prior to the recent primaries.

"Speaker Cannon's reception in Kansas was respectful, courteous and cold," the governor continued.

"The effect of his visit is obvious in the result of the primaries."

Governor Stubbs, who received re-nomination in the primaries on an "insurgent" Republican platform, arrived here today on an automobile trip to Denver.

V. VERNON PLACED IN BAD LIGHT

W. F. Vernon, who was arrested Monday on information furnished by the police of Cripple Creek, Colo., where he is wanted for forgery and obtaining money under false pretences, is still confined at the city jail awaiting official advice from those who caused his arrest.

Local investigation of the man's dealings since his arrival in Ogden places him in the light of a clever forger and one who is bold enough to strike at big game.

It is said that Vernon approached President Bigelow of the Ogden State Bank last week regarding some certified drafts which he desired to have cashed, but the banker proved too shrewd for the fellow and turned down his proposition almost before he had attempted to explain its details.

On broaching the subject to Mr. Bigelow, Vernon produced a certified check for $75 and asked if there would be any difficulty in his obtaining the money it called for. Mr. Bigelow observed, however, that besides the check for $75, the man also had one for $1,000 made out in the same manner and quietly told him that the checks were not properly made out and endorsed. It was evidently the intention of Vernon to negotiate the cashing of the smaller check and then to switch to the one for a thousand dollars if he encountered no difficulties in the transaction.

The police said last evening that in their opinion Vernon had very little money when he arrived in Ogden and registered at the Reed hotel. In view of the fact that money must be forthcoming, Vernon then went to a gambling house on Twenty-fifth street and tried his luck. It was said that he won about a hundred dollars and then visited another house and lost it after which he complained to the police that he had been robbed.

In seeking the assistance of the police to aid him in recovering his money, Vernon offered to "split" with them on any amount they could secure, thereby confirming the belief that the whole affair was premeditated, the fellow intending to win at gambling if he could, but if he lost, to try to secure the co-operation of the police in "holding up" the gamblers for money which he would claim to have lost.

The police secured information yesterday that led them to believe that Vernon has served one or more penitentiary terms for forgery.

NOMADS STEAL BUGGY WHEELS

Silas Gibson, who, with two sons is traveling through this part of the country in a camp wagon, was arrested yesterday afternoon at Riverdale for stealing the wheels off a buggy at Castle Rock, belonging to Dave Moore.

The nomads passed through Castle Rock last Friday evening and the next morning Moore found that the wheels from his new buggy were missing. Nearby were found a set of wheels in a very dilapidated condition and Moore at once suspected that the Gypsy like traveler seen the evening before had made the exchange. Deputy Sheriff J. W. Willes of Summit county trailed Gibson to Riverdale where the arrest was made.

The nomads made little effort to deny the theft and were anxious to settle the matter with the officer and the owner of the wheels, Deputy Moore and Summit county authorities and it is likely that the gangsters will be allowed to pay for the wheels with other costs and not be held for the crime of stealing.

GREEK AND WIFE AGREE TO MOVE

Neighbors in the interior of the postoffice block were attracted last evening by a renewal of trouble between Frank Shubello and a Greek man and his wife, all of whom occupy the same house.

Shubello is afflicted with extreme nervousness which causes him to collapse at times, rendering him helpless and apparently at the point of death. He with his wife and children occupy one-half of a house some distance north of Smith's court. The other part of the house was rented recently by Mike Novotto, a Greek, and his wife.

The two families do not get along well together and matters have gone from bad to worse until Monday night when the Greek woman was said to have attempted Shubello's life with a big knife which she had concealed in her clothing.

The police were called and after interviewing all parties concerned except the man who started the fight and then disappeared, the matter was patched up, the Greek couple agreeing to move out as soon as other quarters could be secured.

The trouble last evening was a repetition of what has occurred on numerous occasions, except that the Greek woman used her fists instead of a knife. No arrests were made as the police were not notified and the Greeks will leave the premises today.

OGDEN MORE THAN LOCALLY KNOWN

Ogden's interest in national conservation and irrigation is becoming more than a locally-known fact and newspaper in various states frequently allude to the enthusiasm and support which Utah, particularly Ogden, consistently extends to the workers in this great cause.

Fred J. Kiesel, who leaves today for Europe, has long been recognized as a student advocate of national conservation and his efforts in that direction are best shown by a dispatch sent out from Pueblo, Colo., Aug. 14. It reads as follows:

Director L. M. Markham of the National Irrigation exposition has a very warm and interesting letter from Fred J. Kiesel of Ogden, making numerous suggestions and giving useful information.

"Kiesel says that leading men of his state are actively engaged in calling attention to both congress and exposition, and in promoting participation and attendance."

"The Utah papers, he says, have been printing editorials and news stories on these big Western events, and everywhere there is talk of what these development agencies are doing."

"Kiesel, who is a leading wholesale merchant and pioneer of Ogden, helped organize the National Irrigation congress, and when its sessions were held in his town in 1906, he was chairman of the executive committee. Later, he was a member of the board of governors of the national organization but was compelled to give up the work early this year because of his health."

"Governor Spry has taken an active interest in the Pueblo congress all this year, and has named good committees to work with the congress of the state."

"It is probable no state outside of Colorado, save Kansas and New Mexico, will furnish so large an attendance at the congress and exposition as Utah."

HILLS PARCHED BY SUMMER HEAT

A. C. McCain, assistant district forester, returned last evening from a trip of inspection in the Caribou National forest in southeastern Idaho. Mr. McCain said that he had found conditions in the Caribou district very satisfactory considering the time of the year when everything of a vegetable nature is parched with the summer heat and as inflammable as so much tinder.

There have been no fires in the Caribou forest this year which is considered extremely lucky by the rangers who patrol it. The Caribou forest is a sheep district but during the dry season the flocks are forced to seek elsewhere for their grazing.

Regarding the disastrous fires which have been sweeping the forest-clad ranges in Montana, Mr. McCain said that it was most unfortunate and that the loss to the government would be tremendous.

"A great proportion of these fires," he said, "are probably due to careless campers, while many are started by sparks from passing locomotives. A patrol of 10,000 men would probably prove of little avail in the case of Montana owing to the extremely dry season which has been in progress. In ordinary seasons a small patrol in a government forest will do wonders and can be relied on to keep the fire damage down to the minimum. In the vast stretches of mountain timber in Montana, however, it is practically impossible to keep the matter in hand when the season is as dry as at present. A spark falling into the dry grass of a forest will grow to a cyclone of flame within a few minutes and no human agency can hope to stop it. It has been densely timbered hills stretch for miles in every direction and everything is as dry as tinder."

PROSSER MURDER TRIAL HAS BEGUN

BUTTE, Mont., Aug. 16.—A dispatch from Libby states that a jury was secured today in the case of Mrs. Vera Prosser, charged with killing her divorced husband, Reese D. Prosser, a Seattle automobile salesman, aboard a Great Northern train near Libby, and the introduction of testimony begun. George R. Glenn, train auditor, who was on the train when Prosser was killed, was the first witness. He told of finding Prosser in the compartment with a bullet in his temple, from which he died shortly afterward. Prosser was found shortly after the train left Libby. He told of Mrs. Prosser's actions on the train and of her apparent great attachment for Prosser.

C. C. Arlington, the prosecution's star witness, and who gave sensational testimony as the coroner's inquest has not put in an appearance and Judge Erickson has been requested to declare his bond forfeited.

E. W. Lindsey, porter of the car occupied by Prosser and his traveling companions, was the next witness. He told of the reconciliation of Prosser and his divorced wife in the former's compartment. Some of his testimony is unprintable, as it related to the conversation in the compartment between Prosser and his former wife, which the porter overheard while working in an adjoining compartment.

UNITED STATES SUPERVISING ARCHITECT DEAD.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 16.—Ernest K. Richardson of Covington, Virginia, supervising architect for the United States Treasury department died suddenly from heart trouble here today. He was 30 years old. Richardson came here to supervise the construction of a government building in Kansas City, Arkansas.

U. S. MARSHAL ARRESTS CAPTAIN FOR CRUELTY.

MOBILE, Ala., Aug. 16.—The U.

S. Marshall was authorized to day to arrest J. Harry Steeves, of the fishing smack, Alton, and the entire crew charged with inflicting corporal punishment on John Roguis, a fifteen year old boy. This lad alleges the master and crew marooned him on an uninhabited island in the Gulf of Mexico after beating him and dragging him in the sea behind the stern of the vessel, tied in a canvas sack.

OLD GUARD TURN DOWN ROOSEVELT

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—Theodore Roosevelt matched his strength with the "old guard" of the Republican party in New York state today and met decisive defeat. The Republican state committee in session here, by a vote of 20 to 15 refused to recommend him for temporary chairman of the state convention which meets at Saratoga Springs tomorrow.

This is Colonel Roosevelt's second defeat at the hands of the "old guard" the first having been the legislature's refusal to pass the Cobb direct primary bill although Mr. Roosevelt had especially endorsed it. With his setback today plans for harmony within the party in New York received a severe blow and as soon as Colonel Roosevelt heard there was he issued a statement in which he enrolled himself as a progressive, so far as the New York situation goes.

It was his most pointed political statement since his return and those who saw him were convinced that he had determined to begin an open fight on the "old guard."

"Old Guard to Fight Teddy."

Today's repudiation does not necessarily mean that Colonel Roosevelt will not be temporary chairman after all. The convention delegates themselves will decide who is to open the meeting and deliver the "keynote speech" but the state committee's recommendation of Mr. Sherman for the place serve notice on the ex-president and his supporters that the "old guard" would fight him to the end.

In the interval between national now and Sept. 27 it is expected that the struggle between the organization and the Roosevelt-Hughes forces will be carried into every corner of the state and that the chief issue will be at the primaries the selection of Roosevelt, or anti-Roosevelt delegates to the convention.

Sherman Plans Defeat.

Whether Mr. Sherman lent his support to the movement which resulted in Colonel Roosevelt's defeat has not been established definitely. William L. Ward of Westchester, national committeeman who was one of the leaders in the anti-Roosevelt combine, is quoted as having said that Mr. Sherman knew all about the plans to endorse him for temporary chairman. Others who took part in today's meeting were of the opinion that Mr. Sherman knew nothing of it.

As far as Colonel Roosevelt is concerned, it has been known for some time that he was aggressively inclined to the plan to make him temporary chairman, as it is shown by his statement of today. He said, however, that he had not understood that his name was to be brought up at today's meeting.

Griscom Interview.

Lloyd C. Griscom, chairman of the county committee, who presented the colonels name today, said this evening:

"I don't know whether today's action by the committee will have any effect on Mr. Roosevelt's attitude during the state campaign. Mr. Roosevelt is to be a delegate to the state convention. It seems to me that as the States the party in his state owes him at least the temporary chairmanship."

"Mr. Taft, so far as I know, did not anticipate that Colonel Roosevelt's name would be presented to the committee. If he had known he would have prevented the action that was taken. The action of Sherman cannot be construed as an endorsement of the Taft administration which needed no such endorsement."

INDIAN CHIEF CAN'T REMEMBER

SULPHUR, Okla., Aug. 15.—Douglas Johnson, a Chickasaw Indian and chief of the 8,000 members of that tribe, answered "I do not remember" before the special congressional investigation committee today when asked how it was that he was able to deposit the $75,000 in his personal credit a few days after J. F. McMurray had received $750,000 as attorney's fees.

Johnson has testified that he always had approved of what are known as the present McMurray contracts which provided for the sale of $200,000,000 worth of land belonging to the Indians and which would allow McMurray 10 per cent or $20,000,000 in fees.

He also urged other Indians to sign them. He testified he was a particular friend of McMurray. He testified in what are known as the citizenship cases several years ago that he approved of a contract in which McMurray got a salary of $5,000 a year and $2,000 a year expenses. A short time afterwards he approved of another contract on which McMurray obtained for doing the same work a contingent fee of $750,000. The latter fee was to have been $1,500,000 but was cut down one half by the government.

"Why was it you were willing to give McMurray $750,000 for doing that for which he already was paid salary?" asked Representative C. B. Miller of Minnesota.

"Because we thought he earned it," replied Chief Johnson.

"He kept off the rolls 3200 claimants to our property and this saved us $5,000 for each person so kept off or a total of $16,000,000. I would have been willing to have paid him 50 per cent or $8,000,000."

"You were willing to give a little extra money in order to save that much land, is that it?" Now tell us why it is that a few days after that $750,000 was paid to McMurray you were able to deposit to your personal account in a bank at Denison, Texas,

Scratch a Match and Turn the Value

It is a true axiom that nothing is perfect until it is simple. All our men of middle life will remember the old powder-horn, cap-box and shot pouch; how cumbersome and slow it was when loading the old-fashioned shotgun. But now it is different, the cap, powder and shot are all in one shell.

How unpleasant it must have been for Martha Washington and all the ladies of her day to cook in the old fire place with its dutch oven and spit. If time could only be unrolled and bring them back to life again, how pleased they would be to work in one of our modern kitchens where gas is used. It would be like a dream to them until they could be convinced of its reality.

One lady says, "I would not sell my gas stove if I could not get another
